TRIBUTE

In no community is there anyone who performs a more valuable service than that of a faithful, consecrated teacher; and no where is there anyone who has a more formative influence upon the minds and characters of the youth of today. Miss Shedd, in her life among us, was an outstanding illustration of the highest and best qualities of a good teacher. Her interest in us as individual students and her willingness to help us at all times are well known. She was not only an excellent instructor of the French language, but a very conscientious one. Nothing we can say can add to a life so fruitful in all that was noble and good. The finest monument that can be raised to her memory will be the lives—purposeful lives—of the boys and girls whom she has taught. We shall be better citizens because she walked among us.

DEDICATION

To one whose wise counsel has guided us, whose unfailing patience has moulded our often undisciplined lives, whose integrity and uprightness has called out the best in us, whose ideals of leadership and efficiency have maintained and advanced the high scholastic standards of Arlington High School—

To a noble gentleman and a notable scholar, our principal and friend

HERMAN GAMMONS

We, of the class of 1947, affectionately dedicate our Year Book.

Forgotten Men

With the ringing of cash registers' bells and the noise of a busy lunchroom as a background, these soldiers of the line have carried on in the face of great numbers. To these men of iron go the highest praise and thanks for the splendid work they have done in making change when necessary. For this Arlington High's Forgotten Men should be remembered.

"Ciccy" is uncertain about her future plans. We know that she will always remember Mr. Courtney's Economics class. She likes best bowling and dancing.

Catherine Coffey

101 Webster Street

Diminutive "Kay," whose favorite outdoor sport is skating, plans to leave this earth after graduation. Needless to say, she aspires to become an airline stewardess.

Theodore Cohen

27 Pond View Road

Honor Roll

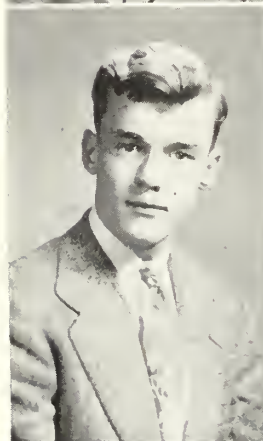

"Ted" will carry fond memories of A. H. S.—especially Mr. Warner and the jokes and fun he had in that famed sixth period Math III class.

Patricia Commins

56 Mt. Vernon Street

Tennis, Bowling, Swimming, Horizon Club

The prom, her classmates, the dancing and clubs will soon be sweet "stuff" for memories for "Pat" who's set for the Chandler School and a secretary's position.

Richard Coleman

94 Grafton Street

Vice President, Basketball, Football

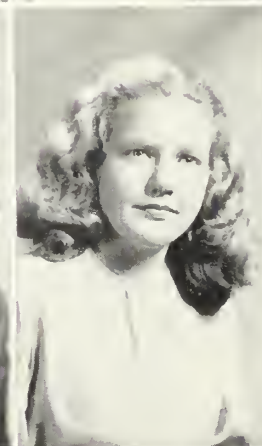

"Dick" is headed for Notre Dame, forever chuckling over the fun in Miss Wardell's Chorus classes. Vice President of the class and popular sportsman, "Dick" will make a great engineer.

Clara C. Conant

55 Tanager Street

Glee Club, Gilbert and Sullivan

It's the Fisher School for Clara and there to office work, remembering always the Mikado rehearsals and the fun in 75.

Jean Collins

36 Oxford Street

G. A. A., Dramatic Club, Gilbert and Sullivan, Field Hockey

Ever popular "Jeanie" is heading for Mass. State (we hope she likes the country). Her favorites are swimming, dramatics, musicals, and sports. She's pretty "mum" about sports.

Mary Conlon

12 Iroquois Road

G. A. A., Dramatic Club

Mary, when an angel of mercy at Saint Elizabeth's, will look back to all the fun she had at A. H. S.—especially that English class with Miss Taber.

Philip Collins

112 Highland Avenue

Cross Country Captain, Indoor Track, Spring Track, "Rec" Committee

Arlington's captain of cross country team and fine track-man, "Phil" is heading for B. C. He'll never forget Miss Round and Latin III. Who can?

Barrett Connors

19 Windermere Avenue

Debating Club

"Bart," the famous "con" man—debater that is—will forever have nightmares about those red arrows, the room numbers, and the separate recesses.

Patricia A. Connolly

969 Massachusetts Avenue

Rifle Club

"Pat," who intends to enter the field of business after graduation, will forever cherish those memories of Miss Fitzpatrick's History class.

Lorraine Cornoni

18 Crescent Hill Avenue

Francis Connors

89 Thorndike Street

Football

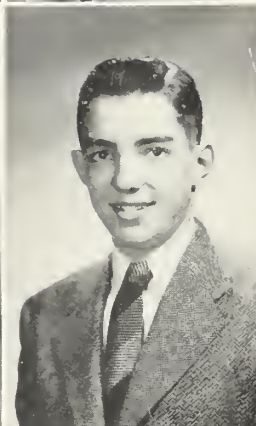

"Fran," who is undecided about his future plans, enjoys horseback riding. He will long remember Miss Krasin's fifth period senior English class.

Howard Cotton

262 Washington Street

Ski Club

"Howie" will leave A. H. S. with no definite destination in view. Longest remembered will be Mr. Eaton's Math classes. Could it be the Math? "Howie" is a Ski Club enthusiast and enjoys outdoor activities.

Geraldine Conway

78 Newport Street

*Student Council, G. A. A.,
Dramatic Club, Class
Secretary*

Our popular vivacious class secretary will never forget her junior English class with Miss Taber and two very interesting classmates. Hmm!!! "Gerry" is headed for the field of nursing—lucky patients—no doubt there will be an unprecedented rise of temperatures!

Robert Coughlin

21 Portsmouth Street

Headed for Wentworth Institute, "Bob" aspires to a career of engineering. A football and hockey enthusiast, he will longest remember Mr. Arthur's Aero classes. Could Mr. Arthur's jokes be the reason?

Mary Corcoran

36 Peabody Road

Glee Club

Mary is headed for Mass. Art School to study fashion illustrating—a fascinating career. Doing her homework before classes will linger longest in her memory—no wonder!

Geraldine Coutts

15 Wollaston Avenue

Bowling, Class Basketball

"Gerry" spent most of her spare time dancing and bowling. Although she tried to forget Miss Peck's senior English, it still remains in her memory.

Francis Couture

8 Waldo Road

Hockey

"Franny's" smile will long be remembered by his classmates. He will study engineering at Northeastern. He will never forget Miss Wakefield's history class.

William Coveney

5 Winter Street

Through The Years

ALBERT WOLOHOJIAN

Who will ever forget with what great anticipation and pride we entered Arlington High School in September, 1944? Soon that anticipation was satisfied and the pride soothed as our historic sophomore year evolved. After adjusting ourselves to the changing of classes and the mysterious stairways which always seemed to be going up when we were coming down, we cast an eye upon the extra-curricular activities offered and found something for every mood—Glee Club, Debating Club, Periclean Forum, G. A. A., the many school teams, and the matchless "Rec."

However, 1944 was one of the darkest years of the war, which robbed us of our finest seniors, who marched off to battle, taking with them much of the glamour and the glitter of school. Their patriotism was reflected in the student contributions to the Bond Rally, the proceeds of which exceeded an unprecedented $4,000, besides delighting the large group of participants.

Where this lack of men would be expected to show most, and where, surprisingly, it showed little was in the football team, which, under the direction of Coaches Toczowski and Cavalieri, vanquished the Melrose "11," 13-0. The season exposed the remarkable talents of Joe Porzio, Charlie Kent, and Vinnie Ciampa from the sophomore class.

The Dramatic Club emphasized an age of color and charm—the eighteenth century—and scored a triumph with Pride and Prejudice, whose cast included Dan Sullivan and Albert Wolohojian from the class of 1947. With the same play the Dramatic Club won a distinguishing merit at the Drama Festival.

With our whole-hearted support, the "Rec" grew and developed, becoming an integral part of the social pattern of the school. The membership became so large that the dances were held at the Town Hall.

A lusty, comic, male chorus, with hilarious Leo Dolan, and a bevy of female beauties, with sweet-voiced Mary Roper, resulted in making the Gilbert and Sullivan's The Pirates of Penzance a memorable evening of entertainment.

As crowning joy, the Prom loomed into view. A select few sophomores were invited while the rest consoled themselves with dreams of future ones.

We must not forget—can we forget?—the sour intermingled with the sweet—the homework, the departmentals, report cards, and now those dreaded finals? They haunted us for weeks and then vanished into memory. The initiation was over; we were full-fledged A. H. S.'ers.

It was a historic year which welcomed us to high school. The nation had been thrown into the depths of sorrow by the sudden death of beloved Franklin D. Roosevelt, and lifted into the heights of joy by the fall of the Axis.

Year one of the Atomic Age! We returned to school—and juniors, none the less; yet there was little celebration, for our school mates were still away; and the casualty lists had not yet stopped coming in. Despondency was displaced by tragic sorrow as Coach Ostergren and Miss Murray left us for the better world. We mourned; but even in the midst of sorrow life must go on.

The Bond Rally was a success equal to that of last year, and was climaxed by Mr. Arthur's noble sacrifice of a newly grown mustache for the national cause.

The G. A. A. did a wonderful job, and the field hockey team had the distinction of winning the state championship. Ill health prevented Mrs. Matthews from producing the annual play; however, the Drama Club entered the Festival at Swampscott with The Cheaters. Gilbert and Sullivan's The Mikado was excellent, exposing in all its glory the fine junior musical talent, the most recent exponents of which were Pat Lundgren, Richard Sherman, and Dave McGavern. The Pericleans, fast rising to distinction, had the honor of participating in the Junior Town Meeting of the Air.

As final tribute to Miss Wardell's many skills, the Girls' Glee Club won highest honors at the Massachusetts Music Festival, and captured the coveted first prize at the New England Festival, a few months before Miss Wardell's retirement.

These events were dwarfed, however, by the beginning of senior activities. Loring was chosen as class photographer; Mr. Coates, of Dieges and Clust, was appointed class jeweler, and he began taking orders for rings. Richard Ockerbloom was elected class president with Richard Coleman serving as vice-president. Gerry Conway was voted in as class secretary, and Virginia Healy as treasurer.

A consciousness of brotherhood seemed to be rising and bringing with it a new school spirit, as the junior year came to a rushing close.

A glorious sense of living and loving to live pervaded the atmosphere as the great senior year began. The "vets" had returned and seemed to delight in the unaffected gaiety of the school. Glossy proofs were being hastily handed back and forth across the study halls and class rings were being proudly worn. There was shouting in the corridors and laughing and chattering everywhere. Unrestrained joie de vivre was rampant.

A surging growth of school activities had begun. A Chess and Checker Club, Stamp Club, Photography Club, and Latin Club were organized. A spring prom was voted in, and caps and gowns were voted out. Homework seemed to be of little consequence to seniors until report cards warned of the possibility of spending a second year enjoying these delights.

Suddenly death took from us the living spirit of Miss Shedd. Faculty and student body alike mourn her loss; nevertheless, sobered, school went on.

Despite an early set back by polio, our football team, under the co-captainship of Joe Porzio and Charlie Kent, did well. The class was very proud of its All Star Troy Sitter and Vincent Ciampa.

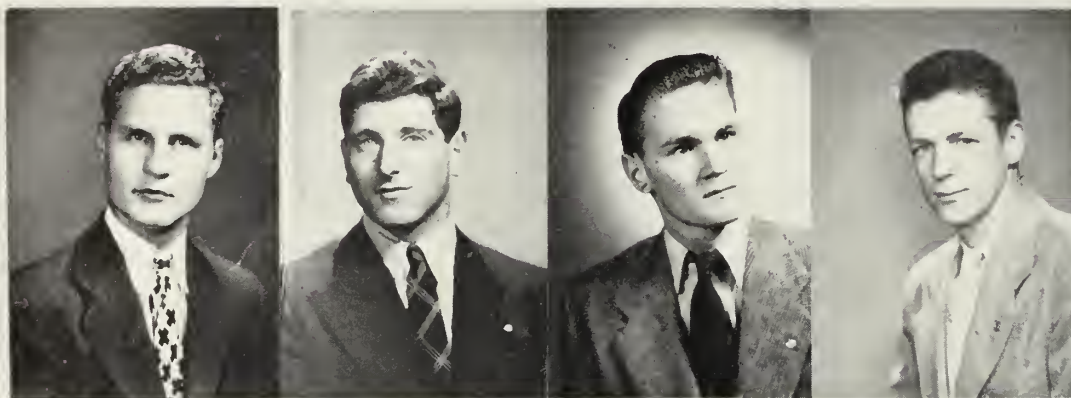

A Date With Judy was chosen as the Dramatic Club's annual play, and the Gilbert and Sullivan has, at this point, been teasing our patience by promising H. M. S. Pinafore. The Pericleans, are preparing a radio broadcast; while inimitable Miss Rounds is inciting gales of laughter from her Latin Club. The "Rec," with Florence Seaver as president, is still the most successful social enterprise in town.

On the fleeting wings of happiness we move on through our senior year in Arlington High School. The Prom will soon be a memory, and we shall be outside these hallowed walls, wishfully watching the sophomores file in. A photograph, a class ring, a year book will remain. But more treasured will be that spark of truth kindled by our teachers, which shall light our souls with the noble spirit of Arlington High School.

YEAR BOOK

Editor-in-Chief, NAOMI PALMER
Business Manager, LUCILLE KORD

First Row (left to right): P. O'Sullivan, A. Forsberg, L. Kord, N. Palmer, J. Bowlby, B. Walker, H. Beauchemin. Second Row: A. Abbott, M. Callahan, C. Sexton, J. MacKenzie, B. Anastasi, L. Manning, J. Ortolano, A. Basmajian. Third Row: J. Leary, D. Sullivan, R. Clancy, A. Wolohojian, F. Seaver.

We, the members of the Year Book Committee, have spent many interesting hours compiling the information found in this Year Book of the Class of 1947. In order that in future years we might all wistfully reminisce about the unforgettable years passed at Arlington High School, the Year Book staff tried to record all the memorable events associated with our careers from the time we hesitantly entered high school until we departed, somewhat sorrowfully, with our coveted diplomas.

STUDENT COUNCIL

President, ALMA WARD
Vice President, JAYNE WALWORTH
Secretary, NATALIE HALL

The Student Council of A. H. S. is one of the most important organizations in the school. Its members, all of whom are elected by their respective classes, are instrumental in conveying the ideas and suggestions of the students to the faculty, and vice versa, in order to promote better understanding between both groups.

The efforts of the members contributed to the success of the Bond Rallies during the war, and to the popularity of the Proms. One important service was the drive for clothes, the result of which was two large packing cases of attractive garments for the needy in the Kentucky Mountains.

It works to promote better cooperation within the school and is an excellent training field for civic responsibility in adult life.

REC COMMITTEE

President, FLORENCE SEAVER

Vice President, ROBERT KELLEHER

Secretary, VIRGINIA HEALY

Treasurer, BARBARA HOEY

The enjoyable "Rec" Dances, which are conducted by A. H. S.'s own "Rec" Committee, a more familiar name for the Arlington Youth Association, are familiar to all of us Seniors. We have attended the weekly gatherings to dance to the music of Bill Hamilton's smooth Arcadians and chat around the coke bar from our step-together step days to our present Arthur Murray proficiency. Hard working members of this committee assist in selling tickets at the door, running the coke bar, and helping members of the Auxiliary Police at the Police Station.

With membership running higher, bigger and better dances are being planned for the future.

ORCHESTRA

Pianist, JANE SWETT

Assistant Pianist, KATHARINE FLYNN

Violins: C. Andrikian, M. England, F. Fabry, B. Pilling, F. Seaver (concert mistress), J. Shogress, S. Wallstrom, S. Zartarian. Cellos: T. Carlson, G. Cunningham, F. Florencourt. Basses: J. Crosby, M. Seaver. Flute: A. Foye. Clarinets: R. Hannah, K. Lincoln, W. Lowenhaupt. Sacophone: R. Van Iderstine. Trumpets: J. Fullam, P. Guarenti, W. Hamilton. Horn: W. Johnson. Drums: W. McCurdy, W. Thomas. Pianos: K. Flynn, J. Swett.

The orchestra, under the direction of Mr. Einzig, provides the music for assemblies, graduation, and the Gilbert and Sullivan performances. They practice three times a week on classical or popular music. Last year the orchestra attended the Massachusetts Music Festival and obtained the highest rating of all the high schools of Eastern Massachusetts.

GIRL'S GLEE CLUB

President, JOAN BRESNAHAN

Treasurer, JEAN CROSBY

Secretary, JUDY ZARTARIAN

First Row (left to right): E. Sweet, A. Silva, M. Slattery, J. Crosby, J. Zartarian, A. Basmajian, J. Bresnahan, J. Ortolano, H. Martucci. Second Row: B. Fields, M. Clark, J. Wilson, J. Bowlby, B. Walker, E. McLaughlin, E. Donovan, B. Bunnell, M. Corcoran. Third Row: M. Roper, L. Wanamaker, E. Cummings, J. Smith, N. Sargent, E. Skinner, D. DiCorpo, J. Myers, J. Bongo.

Those familiar sounds of voices raised in song which were heard issuing from Room 75 at least once a week during our career at A. H. S. were characteristic of the A. H. S. Girls' Glee Club. The Glee Club was a welcome diversion for the girls who enjoyed singing enough to give their time to perfect their skill. Because of the numerous social functions in which the girls participated for three years, they acquired a praiseworthy repertoire which enabled them to succeed in winning the highest ratings at the Massachusetts Music Festival in Needham and at the New England Music Festival at Gloucester in May, 1946.

DRAMATIC CLUB

President, THOMAS MONAHAN
Vice President, DAN SULLIVAN
Secretary, JOAN CAVANAGH

The Dramatic Club has the reputation of being one of the largest and most popular clubs in our school. Their production enables each member to develop not only his dramatic ability but poise and self-confidence. If he is not interested in acting, he may work in the advertising department or on the stage props committee.

In 1944, the members of the club produced "Pride and Prejudice," which drew a capacity crowd. Last year they attended the Massachusetts Drama Festival in Swampscott. They intend to present "A Date with Judy" this year.

GILBERT AND SULLIVAN

President, DAVID MCGAVERN

Secretary, JANE ANDERSON

Librarian, BETTY SWEET

First Row (left to right) : G. Feener, E. Pickell, J. Zartarian, A. Basmajian, N. Sargent, I. Lopez, E. Skinner, E. Skinner, J. Wilson, J. Myers, J. Ortalan, E. Saunders. Second Row: J. Cowan, E. Cummings, J. Smith, J. Bresnahan, C. Dudley, A. McCurdy. Fourth Row: J. Collins, L. Fuller, R. Anderson, M. Joel, C. King, W. Hamilton, Mr. Einzig, W. Thomas, T. Monahan, W. Rockwood, G. Torrey, M. Clark, B. Fields.

The Gilbert and Sullivan Club needs no introduction to members of the Class of '47, many of whom have participated in or been present at the laudable performances of the operettas given by the club.

This spring the club produced H. M. S. Pinafore as the climax of its 1947 season. Like its predecessors Pinafore provided a delightful evening's entertainment for both audience and cast.

Under the supervision of Mr. L. Hassler Einzig, the club in recent years has presented the ever popular Pirates of Penzance and The Mikado, a rollicking satire on Japanese customs.

CHRONICLE

Editor-in-Chief, PAULINE O'SULLIVAN
Advertising Manager, VIRGINIA MAIO
Publicity Manager, AL PERRY
Exchange Manager, ANNAMAE FORSBERG
Distribution Manager, BARBARA ANASTASI

We are proud to have one of the best monthly school newspapers in the state. This year the staff has put forth some of the best issues ever, although, because of the scarcity of paper, the size of the Chronicle has been limited to four pages, with the occasional splurge issue.

The excellent coverage of school events has raised the circulation to more than ninety per cent of the total number of students in school.

With Miss Mary O'Connell as faculty adviser, Pauline O'Sullivan serving her junior and senior years as the Chronicle's first girl editor, Francis Strong, Barbara Anastasi, Annamae Forsberg, Virginia Maio, and Alfred Perry as regular staff members. This year will go down in the annals of the Chronicle as one of its record years.

LATIN CLUB

President, JOHN HILL

Vice President, MARIE BARBANO

Secretary, LOUISE TIBBETTS

Tredecim Fortunati Letterae, the newest addition to our long list of noteworthy clubs, has proved to be the most unique of the year. Its membership is composed of the thirteen members who constitute the fourth year Latin class. Under the capable guidance of Miss Dorothy Rounds, the club's purpose is to give its members additional information of the classics and a broader background in them. Posters depicting the use of modern advertising makes of different mythological characters have been drawn by these versatile members who recite, with the ease of Romans, a passage from the Aeneid as an answer to their roll-call. In addition to studies in art and literature, they also have dramatized examples of early customs by showing, in costume, the sacrifice of a lamb to the Gods.

STAMP CLUB

President, WILLIAM FLETCHER

Vice President, ALLAN POLLEYS

Secretary and Treasurer, GEORGE TORREY

The Stamp Club of Arlington High School, under the supervision of Mr. Skinner, the possessor of an extremely fine stamp collection, presents an opportunity for those students who collect stamps as a hobby to meet, compare, sell or exchange stamps.

This club attends auctions, meetings of the Philatelic Association of Boston, conducts exhibitions at A. H. S., as well as exchanging visits with neighboring high school stamp clubs. At some of the meetings, motion pictures of various countries of the world were shown that a better understanding of their peoples and customs could be obtained.

FINE ARTS CLUB

First Row (left to right): A. McCurdy, N. Adamian, E. McLaughlin, M. Mahoney, H. Reenstierna, E. Skinner, A. White, G. Lexander. Second Row: B. Ladd, M. Legge, A. Rockett, Mr. Kenney, E. Donlon, C. Dudley, B. Lake. Third Row: A. Perry, C. Terenzio, D. McGavein, J. Mahon, E. Roche, R. Mulvehill, G. Torrey.

The Fine Arts Club, under the direction of Mr. Kenney, its faculty adviser, affords an opportunity for those who wish to do creative work in any medium.

This club has exercised a tremendous influence in uncovering the hidden artistic talents of its members in sculptures, water colors, oils, poster-making, cartooning and other fields of art.

DEBATING CLUB

President, DICK CLANCY

Vice President, CLAIRE SEXTON

Secretary, JANE CODY

Treasurer, WARREN RYAN

Heated debates and ever hotter rebuttals can be heard issuing from room 69 and echoing down the deserted corridors late into the afternoon the first three Thursdays of every month. The Debating Club really analyzes important questions of the day. This year the club sponsored a successful oratorical contest, which offered prizes to the student delivering the best oration. This winner served as the Arlington High School representative in the American Legion Oratorical Contest.

The Debating Club welcomed back Mr. Guy Petralia, the capable faculty director, who had joined the armed forces in 1942. The members, however, are still grateful to Mr. Sexton, who had so kindly substituted for Mr. Petralia during his leave of absence.

PERICLEAN FORUM

President, ELEANOR MAHONEY

Vice President, JOHN HARTLEY

Every Monday afternoon thirty or forty students rush to the library, eagerly anticipating a lively discussion on some worthwhile topic. They express their growing interest in local, national, and world affairs. Eleanor Mahoney ably presides over the meetings, always characterized by "more light than heat."

Among guest speakers who addressed the Forum this year were Mr. Petralia and Mr. Roens of our faculty. A Forum member represented Arlington High School on the "Junior Town Meeting of the Air" program. The subject this year was, "What Should We Expect from Radio?" This participation is always a coveted privilege.

At a "Youth Forum" program presented by Arlington Woman's Club, four of the Pericleans participated. They won praise from a critical adult audience.

The Forum's able adviser is Miss Wakefield.

G. A. A.

President, ALMA WARD
Vice President, ANN HARRINGTON
Secretary, VIRGINIA HEALY
Treasurer, JAYNE WALWORTH

This year, under the efficient leadership of their president, Alma Ward, the G. A. A. has planned a program chock-full of activities and delightful entertainment. The initiation which was combined with a gala Hallowe'en Party is an event that the G. A. A. members will always remember. Peg Nolan, Nancy Mitchell, and Janet Tenney were awarded prizes for their clever name tags.

The fall Field Day was a great success. The Sophomores walked away with all the honors of the day by defeating the Juniors and Seniors in both hockey and soccer. Then all the participants in this affair were invited to the Wiener Roast which followed soon after. Some other events which promise to be "big doings" are the Christmas Party, the amateur show, and the spring Field Day.

TENNIS

D. Galli, Manager, Miss O'Neill, G. Lexander, J. Sweeney, B. Stevens, J. Mirabello, A. Kasparian.

Tennis is fast becoming one of the most popular sports at A. H. S. This year's team is anticipating a very successful season under the efficient coaching of Miss O'Neil. Dot Galli, manager, is one of last year's best players. Along with Anita Kasparian and Greta Lexander, Dot is planning to make this season's games even better than '46.

Some of the teams with which these girls will show their skill are Winchester, Medford, Lexington, and Belmont.

GIRL'S BASKETBALL

The girl's basketball team, under the capable supervision of Miss McCarty, is looking forward to a very successful season. Though many of last year's players have gone, the squad promises to be a good one.

Jean Sweeney, last year's high scorer, is with the team again this year. A few more of the veteran players are those quick-acting guards, Phil Merrill, Eleanor Beck, and Alma Ward. As this goes to press, the girls are putting in many hours of tedious practice in order to be in good shape when the basketball season begins.

FIELD HOCKEY

L. McGilivray (Manager), J. Sweeney, P. Merrill, B. Barry, J. Leary, P. Cannon, J. Cameron, J. Mackay, P. McGrath, V. Healy, A. Ward, J. Riley, C. Cadario, M. Ritchie, D. Jones (Captain).

Surveying the record of the Arlington High School girls' field hockey team, we find that they had an excellent season. The girls finished this season undefeated and were tied only once in their game with Lexington. This sport combined with its fast-action and spirited players has been one of the most popular girls' sports for a number of years.

On this team all the girls were stars in one way or other and deserve much credit for their outstanding record during the past two years.

The girls are planning to receive jackets again this year. The money needed to purchase these jackets is obtained from the proceeds of the amateur show which is sponsored by the G. A. A.

GIRL'S SOFTBALL

This year's baseball team will be under the direction of the capable coach, Miss McCarty, and Dotty Robinson, the team's efficient manager. As they are counting on an exciting season, the girls are anxiously looking forward to spring.

The team is fortunate in having many veteran players sign up for spring baseball. Those sports enthusiasts, Louise McGillivary and Eleanor Beck, have been chosen co-captains. "Keep batting" and perhaps you will have a chance to arrange a game with the Red Sox.

BASEBALL

Towards the end of the school year, all sports-minded fans drifted down to the old diamond to watch the battling nines "slug it out." When we took a second look at the scoreboard, we found Arlington next to the higher score.

It seems to have become a habit with Coach Cavalieri to produce one of the best baseball teams in Greater Boston. This fact was again proved this year when Arlington thrilled fans in home games with Newton, Waltham, Rindge Tech, and Brookline, with repeat performances at each of these towns.

Many startling plays were pulled by Richie Raia at second base and Bob Coveney at shortstop. Excellent fielding, pitching, and base guarding was exhibited by Vinnie Ciampa, Roger Beardsley, Bowen, Vincent, and Atamian. Many of the subs played just as clever a ball game. Good work, Coach Cavalieri!

BOY'S BASKETBALL

Many skillful and exciting games were enjoyed this year by the fans of the basketball team. Although Captain Vinnie Ciampa was the only veteran on the team, the new material proved well able to fight to victory. Bertolami, Carmody, Stevens, Canty, Cuniff and Granada were among the outstanding hoopsters.

The eyes of the enthusiastic sports-lovers who packed the stands in the months of January and February often followed the bounding ball down the court in the hands of a capable classmate into the midst of the tangle of teams. Then they suddenly saw it flung into the air and soar through the opposition's basket, another Arlington triumph. Under the guidance of Coach Toczyłowski and Coach Cavalieri, these new players have developed into a superb team.

SKI CLUB

President, WILLIAM BOWMAN
Vice President, NATALIE HALL
Secretary, PAULINE O'SULLIVAN
Treasurer, GENE FULLER

First Row (left to right): E. Fuller, N. Hall, W. Bowman, P. O'Sullivan, Mr. Miller. Second Row: P. Merrill, N. Sargent, E. Saunders, A. Forsberg, H. Beauchemin, J. Blakeslee, L. Wanamaker, G. Alexander, E. Beck. Third Row: W. Gobie, H. Rienstierna, N. Rockwood, L. McGilivray, T. Ford, J. Cavanaugh, R. Germaine, L. Kord, B. Connors.

The Arlington High School Ski Club was organized in December, with a membership of sixty. Inter-school "informal" competition was planned but it was found that A. H. S. is the only school in approximately a twenty-mile surrounding area that has a ski club.

Since the purpose of the Ski Club is to stimulate interest in safe (??) and controlled (??) skiing it was voted that members be required to pass examinations proving they knew a "christie" from a "sitzmark." There tests were for beginners, intermediates, and advanced skiers. Emblems of proficiency were awarded by Mr. Miller, faculty adviser, to those passing the tests satisfactorily.

During the many snowless weeks when skiing in this area was at a standstill many members journeyed to the mountains for their sport. All have enjoyed weekly instructional and entertainment films secured by the club.

CROSS COUNTRY

Second Row: W. Fletcher, T. Monahan, D. Garland, Coach "Doc" McCarty, P. Johnson, B. Davies, C. Tobiason*

Under the leadership of Coach "Doc" McCarty, the Arlington cross country team has emerged with a clean record. They won all their dual meets, defeating Winchester and Exeter by unusually large scores. Brookline, Brockton and Weymouth also fell prey to the racing tide of A. H. S.

Captain Phil Collins, with the aid of such capable teammates as Don Hardy, Irving Morgan, Bill Yeo, Danny Webb, Carl Tobiason, and Johnny O'Neil, placed Arlington among the top cross country's teams of the state. With the exception of Phil Collins, the same runners will lead their team in front next year with the added help of Dick MacDougall. Don Hardy has been elected captain for this team.

Such a team deserves great credit in the annals of high school sports.

INDOOR TRACK

With excellent material to work with, "Doc" McCarty, as coach of track, has produced one of the best teams Arlington has ever had. This year Co-Captains Dick Schumann and Dick MacDougal led them to victory after victory. Meets with Medford, Andover and Brockton were the highlights of the year topped off by the State Meet.

Don Hardy, the two captains, John O'Neil, Morgan, Yeo, Webb, Barland, Tobiason, Heally, Kennedy, Groppi, Cavicke, Johnson, and Joel were the foremost runners of the year. Barbagallo, Crockett, Graves, Hartley, and Freni proved superior in Shot Put. Finn, Giblin, Heally, Hughes and Colin Robinson led in the high jump. The captains and Yeo were outstanding broad jumpers. The standouts in the dash were Schumann, Kennedy, Yeo, Groppi, Kibit, Lennon and Dick and Robert Smith. Practically the same team will compete again next year. Being experienced, they will probably tally an even better record.

GOLF

Mr. Arthur, J. Finlayson, B. Doherty, L. Mullins, G. Fuller, N. Roach, P. Arthur, L. Dolan, R. Bianchi.

A tense moment, a quiet hush among the spectators, and all eyes fasten on the little round ball, especially the two steady eyes of the sportsman wielding the long, slim club. The club is drawn back over his shoulder; then with a sudden swish, it plummets down to meet the ball with terrific force. A long sigh, then a few comments as it makes a straight drive for the flag that marks the hole in the distance.

This is the scene that so often took place on the wide expanses of the Winchester Golf Club this past season as the members of the golf club skillfully competed for the low score. With the expert direction of Coach Arthur Robinson, the organization has shown that its members are among the tops in school boy competition. Congratulations to Mr. Robinson and his first-class team!

First Row (left to right): R. Monast (Manager); R. Beardsley, W. Muello, W. Walsh, W. Coveney (Co-Captain), K. Wells (Co-Captain), W. Leary, T. Kelly, J. Shea, L. Carney (Manager). Second Row: B. Fitzmaurice, G. Kiniry, B. Donovan, R. Coveney, R. Flanders, C. Downs (Coach), J. Fife, B. Campbell, C. Cadario, K. Richards.

Coach Charles Downs produced a 1946-47 hockey team that figured in the top of the race for Greater Boston Interscholastic Ice Hockey League honors. Co-captain Kenny Wells gave the team a fine start with experienced goal tending while Jim Fife, the only veteran defenseman, was the dynamo of power behind the line. Co-captain Bill Coveney was the big man among the forwards, though Bill Walsh and Bill Leary ran close seconds. These three players thrilled the G. B. I. fans with plenty of good hockey.

Among the new faces in the A. H. S. lineup were Roger Beardsley, Bill Muello, and Bob Coveney on the defense. On the second line, there were Joe Shea, Gerald Kiniry, and Tom Kelley. However, this trio was often replaced by Ed Emery, Brad Donovan, and Bruce Campbell. Bob Flanders and Charlie Cadario helped out frequently on the defense.

The squad met powerful Cambridge Latin and held them to a one-one tie. In the second game, Arlington ran over Stoneham 3-0 with the help of Bill Coveney's performance of the hat trick. Arlington then fell before a strong Melrose team only to retaliate with a 6-0 victory over Belmont.

Besides the regular league games, Arlington had some exciting games with Andover, the Harvard Freshmen, and Belmont Hill. Congratulations to Coach Downs and the team for a very successful season.

CHEER LEADERS

B. Leonard, J. Walworth, W. Finlay, C. Cadario, C. Deacon, R. Dodds, L. Lambert, M. Joel, F. Faulkner, V. Steed, R. Anderson.

The seniors of '47 may well be proud of the school spirit which was promoted by this year's cheer leaders. Whenever the football team needed encouragement, the cheer leaders' "Go, team, go" could be heard from all parts of the cheering section.

The Thanksgiving Rally, sponsored the night before the Melrose vs. Arlington game, was an occasion that will long remain in our memories. What a sight it was to see those flaming torches thrust above the heads of excited pupils as they shouted all the cheers in preparation for the next day! Yes, those red-and-gray-colored figures deserve all sorts of credit for their splendid leadership.

The warriors of the Red and Gray presented an exceptional display of power toward the latter part of the season by refusing to budge before some of the state's strongest teams. After the disheartening string of defeats, the boys overthrew Somerville 6-0 and then Chelsea 25-12. They followed these conquests by holding the strongly favored Brockton to a tie. On Thanksgiving, although suffering defeat before Melrose, they won a moral victory by holding the State champs to one last minute touchdown. During the year, the team sent Waltham and Newton into the ranks of the vanquished. However, three hard fought games were lost to Everett, Lynn Classical and Malden by very close scores.

Main bulwarks of the team were all-scholastic Troy Sitter and Co-captain Charlie Kent, supported by George Brillante, Jim Fife, Kenny Wells, Bill Muello, Bob Starkey, Richie Raia and Co-captain Joe Porzio.

Coach Toczykowski and Coach Cavalieri deserve great praise for this season's successful results. Although next year's team will constitute many new members, Arlington's chances are bright.
